6:40 p.m. to 7:10 p.m. A special talk show

GUESTS: SHEILA CLIFFE, KAZUKO OCHI

THEME: KIMONOS, THE WORLD, AND TANGO

Coordinator: Shoji Yasuda, Yasuda Textile Co.,Ltd.

Kimono enthusiast and researcher Sheila will talk about the charm of kimonos and where kimonos are going. Also, Kazuko Ochi, who has focused on the restoration of fabric producing regions such as Tango, Omi, and Okinawa and who has devoted herself to their local revitalization, will talk about the potential of Tango's fabrics and where Tango's fabrics are going. They will talk about Tango's charm from both viewpoints and exchange ideas of what is to come.

Kimono researcher: Sheila Cliffe

Profile

Born in England, she has lived in Japan since 1985. She loves kimonos and spends most of the year wearing them. While teaching English and kimono culture as a professor at Jumonji University in Saitama, she is also involved in a wide range of activities including her work as an author, taking part in kimono exhibitions both in and outside the country, and both planning and producing fashion shows.

Fabric producer: Kazuko Ochi

Based in Osaka, she has built up the brand Laifu to convey the charm of the fabric produced from the manual labor she encountered by personally going all over Japan. In 2007, she acted as the art director for the Japanese brand Tango at the Tango Textile Exhibition held in Paris, France. Afterwards, she was involved in the development of fabrics for Tango, and assisted in the renewal of Tango textiles with a focus on art galleries and department stores.

Live BGM

Hayato Aoki

Born in 1971. He continues to work in music through primarily guitar performances. He releases work through his personal label, "grainfield". He also designs his own jackets. In addition to his solo performances, he has worked with Yuni Mori and Gen Tanabe on "Midori", and Arisa Kawai and Hiroko Nishimoto on "Mori no Hanashi".
